

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

I don't make enough money as it is to make all ends meet, and you are wanting to make it even more difficult for me to own a phone? This is not right at all. Maybe you can afford it seeing as you have your nice cushy well paying job, but millions of others will suffer greatly for this ridiculous proposal.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Naomi Olson
